In the heart of the church I will be love

From the autobiography of St Thérèse of Lisieux

The Memorial of St Thérèse of Lisieux is always on 1st October every year. In 2022, it falls on Saturday this weekend. St Thérèse has been declared a Doctor of the Church, joining St Catherine of Siena and St Teresa of Avila. St Thérèse is remembered for her humble obedience and her fidelity to ordinary duties as the path to sanctity (her little way).

It is a great path that we all can and should learn and practice as we all are ordinary people. Below is an excerpt of the autobiography of the saint, perfectly explaining her understanding of love. It is also the second reading of the Office of Readings for the day. Enjoy reading.

Also this weekend, we thank and welcome Fr Leo Burke to celebrate weekend Masses with us.

Fr Baiyi

Since my longing for martyrdom was powerful and unsettling, I turned to the epistles of St Paul in the hope of finally finding an answer. By chance the 12th and 13th chapters of the 1st epistle to the Corinthians caught my attention, and in the first section I read that not everyone can be an apostle, prophet or teacher, that the Church is composed of a variety of members, and that the eye cannot be the hand. Even with such an answer revealed before me, I was not satisfied and did not find peace.

I persevered in the reading and did not let my mind wander until I found this encouraging theme: Set your desires on the greater gifts. And I will show you the way which surpasses all others. For the Apostle insists that the greater gifts are nothing at all without love and that this same love is surely the best path leading directly to God. At length I had found peace of mind.

When I had looked upon the mystical body of the Church, I recognised myself in none of the members which St Paul described, and what is more, I desired to distinguish myself more favourably within the whole body. Love appeared to me to be the hinge for my vocation. Indeed I knew that the Church had a body composed of various members, but in this body the necessary and more noble member was not lacking; I knew that the Church had a heart and that such a heart appeared to be aflame with love. I knew that one love drove the members of the Church to action, that if this love were extinguished, the apostles would have proclaimed the Gospel no longer, the martyrs would have shed their blood no more. I saw and realised that love sets off the bounds of all vocations, that love is everything, that this same love embraces every time and every place. In one word, that love is everlasting.

Then, nearly ecstatic with the supreme joy in my soul, I proclaimed: O Jesus, my love, at last I have found my calling: my call is love. Certainly I have found my place in the Church, and you gave me that very place, my God. In the heart of the Church, my mother, I will be love, and thus I will be all things, as my desire finds its direction.

Faith Matters: HUMILITY. A word that seems daunting, and at the same time, somewhat weak: what does humility really look like in terms of attitudes and actions in this world?

Is it a matter of being a doormat: that anyone can walk over you without restraint? Never to speak up in the face of injustice done to you? Does it mean always staying in the background, never intruding?

Jesus said, "Come to me all you who labour and are over-burdened, and I will give you rest. Shoulder my yoke and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls" (Revelation 3:20). When we look at Jesus' life, it is obvious that he did not fit into any of the above categories, and yet he says that he is "humble in heart". What, then, is "being humble"?

Perhaps it is more about being someone who is not haughty, a show-off, wanting to be the centre of attention, yet always ready to act or to speak up when there is a challenge to justice, truth or love. Always ready to gently but firmly speak wisdom into a situation for the sake of seeing God's light and love fill every person and situation, not because we want to have our say, but because we know we have Godly insight that needs to be brought to the situation.

We need to recognize our own weakness: our tendency to want to be seen as special, to stand out from the crowd. Then we need to move past that weakness toward what is of the Light, seeking God's grace to be, to say and to do only that which releases that Light into a situation. All to God's glory. Not ours.

The ultimate picture of humility is God, himself, who, in the face of our destructive self-will, chose to enter this world in fully human form. He lived in the limitations of the flesh, taught and served us in the face of disbelief and rejection, then died a painful, shameful death – loving us to the end, even in our sin!

Some facts about the car accident that occurred last Sunday

Unfortunately, a serious car accident occurred in our parish's carpark just before the 9am Mass. Many parishioners are aware of that and they are very concerned about the victim's situation. Fr Baiyi and Jo, on behalf of the parish, visited the victim on Monday morning at PA hospital. We would like to share some facts about the accident and invite you to continue to pray for all those involved, especially the victim.

1. The name of the victim is Lien Pham (English name: Maria). Lien's situation is serious but stable. Four of her ribs and three toes of her left foot are broken. Her legs and right foot are injured, too. Lien is getting further scans, tests and receiving more treatments. Lien had surgery on her knee during the week.
2. Lien is Vietnamese. She and her husband are visiting their daughter and her family in Australia. Unfortunately, they didn't purchase travel insurance.
3. We will invite parishioners to sign on a card and express our thoughts and prayers for Maria this weekend after Mass.
4. If you would like to send the family some flowers and/or donate some money to the family, you are most welcome to do so through the Parish Office. After our three weekend Masses, we will provide a box at the main entrance of church for your convenience to financially support the family.

As is required, a report has been submitted to the Archdiocesan Workplace Health and Safety Office about this incident. We ask that you please always take care when driving or walking in the carpark. Make sure that you keep all those involved, especially the victim and her family in your thoughts and prayers.

Parish Leadership Team

Alpha is starting again: Over the last 2 years we have hosted Alpha in our parish. It was such a success that we are blessed to now have a team who are prepared to host it again.

Alpha will commence on 4th October in the Parish Centre from 6.30pm to 8.30pm with FREE dinner and chat. We invite you to come along if you haven't been before. Remember this is not just for Catholics but for anyone who is searching, wondering where they fit into life. It is in a very casual informal friendly environment where we watch a short video and then have a conversation about it. If you know a neighbour, friend or work mate who you feel could benefit from this night please bring them along. They can come to one, some or all 10 of the sessions.

Bookings are essential for catering for dinner and drinks. Please place your name on the board on the Alpha table or phone the Parish Office. Please talk to one of the Alpha team members who will be at Masses this weekend.
